About

I work at the intersection of economic theory, capital markets and real-world investment practice. My focus is on capital allocation, credit dynamics and business cycles in the Indian economy.

Currently completing doctoral research in Economics alongside an independent macro research engagement on Indian capital markets. The research and the practice inform each other directly.

Over two decades I have worked across equity research, investment banking, wealth management and CFO roles. I am a Chartered Accountant and CFA Charterholder. I run Mannheim Capital, a boutique wealth practice in Bengaluru. mannheimcapital.com

Markets. Not Machines

Real world markets imitate ensemble learning algorithms - consisting of several 'weak learners' combined to predict outcomes. In the former, entrepreneurs and consumers are constantly learning, adjusting and revising plans for successful outcomes. Businesses work to maximise profit. On the other ...

Promoter-Tax in Budget 2026: How Higher Taxes on Promoters Misunderstand the Market Process

For more than a decade, the framework for taxing Indian share buybacks has been the distributed income model – tax the company buying back its shares. Specifically, since 2013, the tax laws have mandated that the tax...

Aditya Shanhbag · The Creative Polymath

1st

Gamification Expert | Game Director/Lead Game Designer/Creative Head | 16+ Years of Experience | Creative Thinker | Diverse Game Design Profile | Worked on Games in Multiple Sectors | Creative Problem Solver | Polymath

February 17, 2026, Aditya was Ashok's client.

I was referred to Ashok through a family connection and transitioned my investments from another intermediary. What stood out quickly was his disciplined, process-driven approach and his ability to make decisions calmly across market conditions. Ashok manages my portfolio with minimal intervention from my side, keeping me well-informed through a transparent reporting framework while retaining independent judgment in execution. This balance of trust, clarity, and long-term orientation has suited my temperament as an investor and exceeded my expectations.

Venkat Sugavanam

VP / Head of Product Marketing | GTM Strategy · SaaS · AI/GenAI · Cybersecurity | 22+ years turning complex technology into revenue-driving narratives for enterprise and high-growth companies

February 16, 2026, Venkat was Ashok's client.

I moved my investment portfolio to Ashok seeking a more disciplined, long-term approach—and he delivered. His methodical process streamlined my holdings with minimal disruption while keeping my goals front and center. What impressed me most was how his clarity and structure built enough confidence that I extended the relationship to manage family investments as well.

Ashok's value extends beyond portfolio management. He proactively connected me with qualified chartered accountants to align tax strategy with investment decisions, demonstrating a holistic view of financial planning. His independent judgment, accessibility, and reliability have made him an advisor I consistently trust.

If you're looking for someone who combines discipline with genuine care for your long-term success, I recommend Ashok without hesitation.
